I saw abuse at unit, says 'whistleblower'

A HAVERHILL woman claims she was forced to quit her job after making allegations that a colleague verbally abused vulnerable adults.

Krystal Robinson worked at the town's Community Resource Unit, in Reeds Lane, for almost five years but said she resigned after her manager's bullying and harassment led her to have to take sick leave.

Miss Robinson told an employment tribunal

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

at Bury St Edmunds on Tuesday that after going on maternity leave, she never returned to her job as a day care officer because the situation had become too stressful.

The tribunal is considering claims of constructive unfair dismissal and detriment caused by exercising a public interest disclosure, better known as whistleblowing.

Miss Robinson said throughout her career at the centre she had always sought to be supportive to customers and to deal with them sensitively. But she told the three-member tribunal panel that she had been shocked by the actions of colleague Peter Eves, who she alleged had sworn at, and been verbally abusive towards, vulnerable adults in their care. The allegation has been denied.

Miss Robinson said she had reported her concerns to her manager Sally Rodwell in confidence but later found that the entire staff of the unit knew the details of what she had said, including Mr Eves.

She claimed that amounted to a serious breach of trust which led to her suffering stress and emotional strain.

■ AWARD WINNING . . . Coun Graham Newman hands out certificates to children who took part in the Big Wild Read.

Picture: Warren Gunn 433440.

Children go wild for reading scheme

READING books helped nurture seeds of interest in more than 5,000 children this summer and earned tokens to plant new trees.

Youngsters at Clare library received certificates and medals last week for completing the Big Wild Read reading competition organised by the Suffolk library service. They were among 5,500 children who signed up in the county this summer holiday to do the Big Wild Read at local libraries.

All the children who read six books over the summer holidays will be presented with a certificate and medal by their local county councillor.

When children completed their first book and returned it to the library, they got a Big Wild Read folder and a packet of wild flower seeds to grow. As they read more books, children collected stickers, including some with a scratch 'n' sniff feature, activity sheets and a hologram bookmark.

For each book read and returned, a child got a "tree token", and the more tokens that were given out, the more trees will be planted by the Woodland Trust.

To recognise the critical importance of reading for children's development, every child who completed the Big Wild Read will get a mention on their library's website.

The council offered the free Reading Challenge in all its 44 libraries, aimed at children aged between four and 11 years old.

The council and the BBC worked together to link the Big Wild Read to the Breathing Places

Assault charge

A MAN accused of assault with intent to cause grievous bodily harm has been committed for trial at Ipswich Crown Court by magistrates. Daniel Batt, 26, of Chimney Street, Hundon, appeared at Bury St Edmunds magistrates court on Tuesday, charged with assaulting Paul Fitch in High Street, Haverhill, on July 21. Batt was released on unconditional bail to appear at Ipswich Crown Court on Thursday, September 27.

Bad summer kills The Fox

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A GASTRO pub described as its owner's "best restaurant" closed its doors this week, less than a year after opening.

The Fox was established in the former Rising Sun pub at Little Wratting after a £500,000 refurbishment by Spice Inns, which runs several successful up-market restaurants elsewhere.

All 10 staff members at The Fox will lose their jobs, but some are being offered work at the group's other restaurants.

Barry Hilton, founder of Spice Inns, said there was already interest from other parties to take over the lease on the premises. He believed it offered a great opportunity for someone to make a success of the business.

He said: "We are sorry it has closed - in my opinion it was our best restaurant. We had taken a while to build up the critical mass and hoped if we had a good summer it would get to a commercial level to sustain the high overheads. The summer was appalling because of the weather and our board of directors took the decision they were not prepared to carry on investing in the site."

He added: "The site has fantastic potential when the houses are built across the road. We are in negotiation with someone at the moment who is a family operator and hopefully they will be able to make a better commercial success of it."

"We achieved a good reputation for good food, but we never the critical mass that we needed."

Overdose man 'was let down by system'

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THE partner of a Haverhill man who killed himself by swallowing deadly cyanide had begged hospital staff to commit him under the Mental Health Act, an inquest heard.

James Goodall, 33, had taken overdoses on three previous occasions before he took the fatal dose that caused his death at his Recreation Road home in January.

Dr Peter Dean, Greater Suffolk coroner, recorded a verdict that Mr Goodall had taken his own life while the balance of his mind was disturbed, at an inquest in Bury St Edmunds on Wednesday.

Dr Dean commended two police officers and a paramedic who continued their efforts to resuscitate Mr Goodall even after they realised he had taken the highly lethal substance which can cause death in fume, vapour or liquid form.

Dr Dean said: "I wish to commend publicly the actions of Pc Richard Aldroyd and Pc Stuart Cirket and the paramedics, who did everything they could to assist James in very dangerous circumstances.

"Once they were aware that James may well have taken cyanide they continued despite the threat to their own safety. The officers acted in an exemplary manner in these tragic circumstances."

Lorna Ellington, partner of Mr Goodall for nine years and mother of his two children, told the inquest he had been diagnosed as having a borderline personality disorder. He was told he needed psychotherapy, but that none was available.

Mr Goodall had threatened both her and his children with violence, and she had begged for him to be committed to Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge after previous overdoses.

She said: "He was desperate for help and the paramedic at the hospital believed he was a danger to himself and others.

"I feel the system let him down very badly. I don't want to blame anybody, I just want to stop anyone else having to go through what we are going through.

"I did not feel the duty of care was there, we were not pointed in the right direction. I feel because of his mental health problems he was not capable of seeking out that help, he should have been referred."

The inquest heard that Mr Goodall had suffered from long term mental health problems from adolescence, increased by bouts of binge drinking and cannabis use. He spent three years in the Army and was affected by things he had seen during the first Iraq war.

Dr Timothy Webb, medical director of Suffolk Mental Health Trust, said help had been offered to Mr Goodall, but he had not felt able to engage with it.

He added that psychotherapy might not have changed the outcome and admitted that of the between 10,000-12,000 people in West Suffolk currently in need of psychotherapy treatment, only 500 a year would receive it.

Friendship put to the test

TWO energetic workmates will be biking, paddling and running for charity in a gruelling challenge event.

David King and Chris Edwards, dispatch technicians for biotech company Genzyme at Haverhill, are hoping to get as much sponsorship as possible for the Jersey Challenge Endurance Race on September 30. David ran the New York marathon last year and Chris is a keen fitness fan, although a shoulder injury for which he recently had surgery has slowed down the pair's training schedule. They are taking part in a cross between a triathlon and an iron man challenge. It includes 3km in a kayak, a 60km road cycle and finally a 12km run.

David said: "Neither of us have ever entered an endurance event like this before. We will be making this huge effort on behalf of Cancer Research and the Alzheimer's Society. We are hoping to raise a substantial amount for both."

The pair, both 31, live and work in Haverhill and hope local companies and individuals will support them with sponsorship. Anyone who can help should visit www.justgiving.com/kingedwards

Teens attack

A MAN was pushed to the ground and abused by a group of teenagers near a children's play area in Haverhill.

The assault happened near the 'tractor park' off Howe Road, Haverhill, between 12am and 12.15am on Tuesday, September 11. The man was verbally abused and pushed to the ground by a group of white males in their late teens. The victim was unhurt and the group, disturbed by a passer-by, then ran off to a larger group of youths nearby.

Anyone with information about the incident should call Sgt Darren Lamboll at Haverhill police on (01284) 774 100.

Roof lead is lifted

LEAD worth around £5,000 has been stolen from the roof of Haverhill Leisure Centre.

The lead was taken from the centre, in Lordcroft Lane, between Tuesday, September 4, and Monday, September 10.

Suffolk police say the lead would have taken a considerable amount of time to remove and a vehicle would have been needed to transport it.

Police want to hear from anyone who saw any suspicious people or vehicles in the area during this time. Anyone with information should call Pc Richard Oldroyd at Haverhill police on (01284) 774 100.

'I was victimised by resource unit's staff'

■ From Page 1

She said: "I felt that I had been victimised for advocating my rights as an employee. All I had done was report my concerns about abuse being directed towards vulnerable adults," said Miss Robinson, who is six months pregnant with her second child.

Miss Robinson said she was given conflicting instructions about where she should be working, left out of staff discussions and suffered from a general lack of communication.

During her maternity leave she had felt isolated because of a total lack of contact from her manager, and during a meeting in her own home had been subjected to unfounded allegations. One member of staff had made untrue claims that she had been involved in drug taking.

The problems only started after she voiced her concerns, said Miss Robinson. After deciding she could not return straight after her maternity leave she was signed off sick for more than three months by her GP with stress and depression. She then decided to quit.

Despite having not been formally dismissed, Miss Robinson alleged that the circumstances leading up to her departure amounted to constructive unfair dismissal.

Suffolk County Council has strongly denied Miss Robinson's claims and alleged that her claim involving Public Interest Disclosure was lodged with the tribunal service outside of the statutory time limit.

The council said the disclosure made by Miss Robinson was not one protected by law and has denied that doing so had exposed her to any detriment.

The tribunal will resume next month.

Spoon helps catch pie-loving burglar

A SWEET-TOOTHED burglar has ended up in prison after illicit snacks he ate while he made his raids helped link him to the crimes.

Police found traces of thief Michael Longden's DNA on a spoon that he had used to eat a lemon meringue pie during the break-in at a hotel.

Ipswich Crown Court heard last week that further incriminating DNA was found at the scene of a second burglary, at a house, which linked Longden to that offence too.

After pleading guilty to two counts of burglary and asking for a third offence of entering a house with intent to steal to be taken into consideration, the 28-year-old from Ickleton Place, Haverhill, was jailed for a total of 15 months.

Prosecutor Ian Pells said that on April 17, a German student holidaying in Bury St Edmunds had woken during the early hours of the morning to find that his room at the town's Regency Hotel had been burgled.

A check carried out by the hotel manager revealed that an attempt had also been made to break into the hotel bar and that food, including the meringue pie which helped to link Longden to the incident, had been consumed.

Two spoons were forensically examined by the police and one was found to carry traces of Longden's DNA.

Mr Pells said that at 3am on April 19 an American serviceman at a house in College Street, Bury St Edmunds, was woken by the sound of someone moving about inside the property and went to investigate. He shouted out and then heard what appeared to be someone fleeing the house.

Downstairs he found that a wallet containing credit cards and US dollars had been stolen and that the intruder had been in the process of packing a laptop computer into a box but had abandoned it.

When police attended they found a can of chocolate-flavoured protein drink had been taken from the fridge during the break-in and partly drunk. Tests on the tin revealed a DNA link with Longden.

A police dog was called to the scene and it was able to follow a trail from College Street into nearby Whiting Street where Longden was seen riding a mountain bike. Officers traced his movements using CCTV and arrested him shortly afterwards.

Longden told officers that he had been recently living in a friend's garden shed in Bury St Edmunds and often scavenged in waste skips and bins which was where he had found the stolen items that police found in his possession.

When arrested, Longden claimed to be on his way to return the stolen wallet to the house in College Street, having found it. But, that was impossible, said Mr Pells, because the wallet only contained a US address for the owner.

Longden had initially pleaded not guilty to the two burglary charges, but he changed his plea to guilty last month. Mitigating, Judge Durr said Longden believed that he had been victimised by the local police in recent months, and felt let down by the system after suffering childhood problems.

Jailing Longden, Judge Neil McKittrick told him: "In part, you seem to have been the author of your own misfortune. I am quite satisfied that in this case only custody can be justified."

Longden was told that the 143 days he has spent in custody awaiting the hearing of the case will be deducted from his prison sentence.

101 good reasons to visit library

FLOWERS and a cake were waiting for Suffolk's oldest regular library visitor when she paid her weekly visit to the local branch.

Grace Jolly, who has just celebrated her 101st birthday, is an avid reader who remarkably does not wear glasses or require large print books. When Miss Jolly arrived at Kedington Library last week with her carers, she was presented with a card, cake and flowers by library manager Jane Helliwell on behalf of Suffolk Library Service.

Miss Jolly lives at the Stourmead Close sheltered accommodation complex in the village, but still visits the library every Wednesday as she has done for many years. Her favourite authors are Catherine Cookson and Danielle Steel. Linda Mowles, from the county council, said: "It is marvellous that she is still able to enjoy reading and we wanted to provide her with a little celebration."

Jill Moss, who has been Miss Jolly's nurse for the past eight years, said her patient had lived at the former Risbridge Hospital since she was in her 40s, after previously being taken into care at the age of 26. She was originally from the Colchester area, but her mother died when she was young, then she suffered poor health and worked in service for a time before coming to Kedington.

Gemma Collier, a health service carer who takes Miss Jolly to the library each week, said: "She is very choosy, she takes about 20 minutes looking at the books and she won't have anything she doesn't like the look of. She has already started to read her book as soon as you push her out of the door."

Team talk for firms

UNDERSTANDING team dynamics will be the topic of the next meeting of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Jacqui Burke, from Flourishing People, a member of the chamber, will lead the talk.

Paul Donno, chairman, said: "I am really looking forward to this event."

"It will present an opportunity to take some time out and review just how our behaviour does impact on others and the organisation, and to recognise how a slight change of approach can help to avoid those moments of conflict that the vast majority of us hate."

The lunchtime session will be held at the Taste of China Chinese restaurant in Birdbrook on Tuesday.

It starts at noon and will conclude by 2.30pm.

Entry is £7.50 for chamber members and £10 for non-members and will include a light buffet.

To reserve a place, contact Elaine Carr, at elaine@flipflopmarketing.co.uk, or call (01440) 710 158.

History group's fine old yarns

HAVERHILL'S flourishing silk industry during the 19th Century is the topic for the next meeting of the Haverhill and District Local History Group on Wednesday.

David Possee, from Braintree, will talk about the silk industry in Essex and Suffolk.

Entry is free and there will be a rare opportunity to see some of the historical photographs recently archived by the society.

The meeting begins at 7.30pm at the Haverhill Arts Centre in the High Street.

Pond work set to start in time for lottery deadline

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

REASSURANCES have been given that work will start next week to complete the restoration of a pond area amid fears that lottery cash could be lost unless it is completed by the November deadline.

A National Lottery representative was taken along to see progress in revamping the area around the new pond at Castle Playing Fields, Haverhill, which won a £58,000 People's Millions cash award last October for a scheme to extend the pond, create fishing platforms, a wildlife area, new paths and an amphitheatre.

Last week, John England, chairman of the Parkway Community Association, which made the successful bid for the scheme, raised concerns at a meeting of the Haverhill Partnership that only £17,685 had been spent so far and that the remainder of the cash could be lost unless work was completed by the deadline.

Park rangers and volunteers had been willing to install the piers, but St Edmundsbury Borough Council said this work must be done by an outside contractor and so far no date had been fixed.

Mr England said: "We just keep getting fobbed off and, at the end of the day, if we don't get this work done by the end of November we could lose the rest of the money."

Mr England said the lottery representative had been impressed with the plan for the area. He added that he had also been told that work on the footpaths would begin on Monday and that the piers would be put in soon afterwards.

He was now hopeful that work would be completed before the November deadline.

Mountain bike stolen

A MOUNTAIN bike and a motor mower battery were stolen by thieves who got into an unsecured garage at Haverhill. The theft happened at Withersfield Road, Haverhill, between 2pm and 11pm on Saturday, September 8. The cycle was a man's black Specialized Hardrock mountain bike. Anyone with information should call Pc Rupert Beynon at the Haverhill North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774 100.

Mia's sunflower puts others in shade

■ TALL STORY . . . Mia Huckstep, who won the Haverhill in Bloom highest sunflower competition, with mum Leela.

FOUR-year-old Mia Huckstep had to sit on the shoulders of her mum, Leela, to see the top of her giant prizewinning sunflower. Mia, of Boyton Close, Haverhill, won the highest sunflower competition organised by the Haverhill in Bloom committee, in association with the Haverhill Weekly News. Mia and her mum nurtured a few sunflowers in their garden, the tallest of which reached an impressive 3.22m (10ft 7¼ in). They were both excited at winning the competition. Leela said: "We moved here last year and spent so much time taking plants out, this was one of the few things we actually planted and it is great to see them so high."

Tim Radford, chairman of Haverhill in Bloom, was struck by the solid stems when he inspected the plant and took measurements. He said: "Congratulations to Mia and Leela. Their sunflowers were obviously well looked after and had great wide heads measuring up to 28cm (10in) across. Perhaps next year not only can people compete for highest flower but we could also have a secondary competition for widest head."

Organisers look forward to seeing more sunflower entries next year as the competition has become an established part of a series run throughout the year by Haverhill in Bloom.

The group's next gardeners' market will take place on Sunday, October 7, at Haverhill Recreation Ground in Camps Road.

Crowning joy for wedding belles

COSTUME designer Amanda Sutherland gave up her London life in the fast lane and is now using her talents to make brides in Suffolk look beautiful on their big day.

Amanda, who launched her bridal accessories business within her London studio five years ago, is the latest to back the Weekly News Buy Local campaign.

Formerly a costume designer working for both stage and screen, Amanda has created costumes and accessories for various films, television dramas and theatre productions. After taking part in the BBC2 Escape to the Country programme, Amanda and her husband Paul decided to leave their London life and move to Suffolk to create the dream of a studio and showroom away from busy city life.

The Haverhill Design Studio is now the backdrop to many wonderful bridal accessories including tiaras, hair accessories, veils and jewellery. Amanda said: "Every bride should be made to feel special in preparation for her big day and be able to create her dream. I cater for both the truly eccentric to the more traditional bride, with a selection of glass leaves, crystal vines and feather creations, all made to order in any choice of colour. There are also ranges of bridesmaid and mother-of-the-bride accessories to complete the perfect match to any outfit."

Amanda now has various showrooms located within the UK. She said: "The Haverhill studio means that brides can shop locally for their wedding accessories rather than travelling to bigger towns and paying bigger prices."

The Design Studio can be contacted on (01440) 702105, or visit the website at www.asutherland-bridal-accessories.co.uk. Appointments are available from 5pm and at weekends, with prices starting at £25.

New wish list on the horizon

BY Rachel Extance

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

AN AMBITIOUS £118 million wish list has been drawn up by Cambridgeshire Horizons in a bid to get the Government to splash the cash in the region.

The body wants to spend the money improving roads – including temporary improvements to the A14, building a new Olympic gymnastics club and promoting greener travel. It also intends to pump millions into improving areas of market towns around Cambridge.

Around £5 million could also be spent upgrading Cambridge Railway Station, while nearly £24 million could be spent on the Northstowe development, including spending £5 million on a primary school for the town and £3 million on renewable energy for homes there.

The organisation, which is overseeing the delivery of 47,500 homes in and around Cambridge, is planning to apply to the Government for cash to finance its wish list.

Market towns including Huntingdon, St Neots and Cambourne would also get a £19 million boost if the plan gets the go-ahead.

John Onslo, director of development at Cambridgeshire Horizons, said: "We are putting forward what we think is a realistic programme, and hopefully the Government will respond to that."

"It won't give us everything we ask for, but that's the nature of the business."

Part of the bid is a £31 million rolling fund to help pay for the Addenbrooke's access road, interim measures on the A14 related to Northstowe, and an access road in Northstowe.

Mr Onslo said: "We are looking to respond very much to the eco-agenda and see if we can put in place innovative schemes which address the carbon agenda, in particular things like renewable energy, and also try to attract businesses to the area which have a sustainable side to them and create a hub of activity around Northstowe."

The sewage treatment works in Ely could also receive a £1.5 million to help with its relocation, and a churches community centre could be created in Cambourne.

Cambridgeshire Horizons might not secure all the funding it needs but it has pledged to work with local authorities to help prioritise spending.

The broad package of funding was rubber-stamped at the Cambridgeshire Horizons' board meeting on Monday. Some additional funding bids for Northstowe and the Cambridge fringe sites were also agreed.

The overall bid will be submitted to the Government by the end of the month.

■ QUALITY STATUS . . . Gordon Mussett.

Top mark for town clerk

HAVERHILL'S town clerk has become one of only a handful across the country to achieve prestigious Quality Clerk status.

Gordon Mussett has spent the past three months preparing a portfolio of evidence to show his knowledge of points of law and how these should be interpreted by the council. He has also gained the required 100 per cent pass mark in his certificate in local government administration qualification. Having achieved the bench mark himself, Mr Mussett is now able to assist the council in preparing its own portfolio to try to achieve quality status as an overall body.

He said: "It is a relatively new thing and I think Suffolk as a county is probably leading the way in terms of having accredited parish clerks. I am proud to have achieved this and look forward to helping the town council achieve quality status."

"The Government looks on it as the mark that other authorities will look for in devolution of services."

Joined up housing plan

PLANS to build three two-bedroom terraced homes on land at Couplas Close, Haverhill, have been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

The proposal also includes altering vehicle and pedestrian access.

Support for fewer hours

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

HAVERHILL town councillors are backing county-wide moves to reduce police station opening hours, despite protest from other towns.

Newmarket's mayor, Coun Bill Burch, has condemned the money-saving move, which also sparked protests in Mildenhall. But councillors in Haverhill will not oppose it.

Gordon Mussett, town clerk, said members of the council believed the hours being provided for public surgeries by the police's Safer Neighbourhood Teams would more than make up for the hours lost by not opening the police station in the evening.

Mr Mussett said: "Members felt the hours being given for the surgeries were longer than the hours being lost so there will probably be a greater police contact presence in the town than there is at the moment. Many reasons why people go to the police in the evening could take place in the day, so the reduction might be justified.

"If people want to report incidents of crime they should dial 999. The more people use the 999 system, when it is warranted, the more police we will get in the town."

"People can still press the button on the wall and speak to incident control and, with radio pagers, they can speak to the beat bobby directly. We want to see more police actually out on the streets."

Suffolk Police Authority is being asked to approve reductions which will see Haverhill station open between 10am-4pm on Sundays and 9am-5pm for the rest of the week.

The cuts are part of the authority's plan to find 1.8 per cent efficiency savings in the current financial year. A report to the authority says police telephone operators have had to deal with angry callers who found police stations closed when they should have been open.

In some instances they could see officers inside who would not answer the door.

THE FIRST EMPEROR
CHINA'S TERRACOTTA ARMY

at The British Museum

Here's your chance to see some of the famous life-size figures of China's famous Terracotta Army, on display for a limited period in a unique exhibition at the British Museum. This once in a lifetime exhibition explores one of the greatest archaeological discoveries of the 20th century and will give you a real insight into China's First Emperor and his legacy.

As well as seeing twelve of the extraordinary Terracotta Warriors, (the largest number ever let out of the country) there are about 200 other exhibits including figures of musicians, acrobats and officials which have not been out of China before.

This promises to be one of the greatest exhibitions of a generation and demand is expected to be high.

■ SAVING THE DAY . . . Steve Rinaldi.

CP.

Steve steps in to sing for Kelly

LOCAL singer Steve Rinaldi stepped in and saved the day when Kelly LeRoy Mephram was unable to make an appearance as guest soloist with Haverhill Silver Band on Saturday.

Organisers of the concert at Haverhill Arts Centre only found out at lunchtime on Saturday that Kelly was stranded in North Wales and unable to get back to her home town.

The band committee rallied and realised that in their company on Sunday was another talented singer, Steve Rinaldi, of Rinaldi Sings, who had already agreed to guest on trombone for the occasion. Steve had no hesitation in offering to step in and, after a hurried rehearsal, was able to charm the audience with four Sinatra favourites.

The band were grateful to Steve, and to the audience for supporting them despite "change of plan" posters outside the arts centre. Steve, whose musical roots

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk are in Haverhill Silver Band, was a member of the National Youth Band and went to music college in London. He is a professional trombonist, playing mainly in the capital's West End.

Recently he has moved into song, fronting Rinaldi Sings which is about to release a second album, BINGO! which will be available after Christmas on the Tangerine Records label.

Kelly LeRoy Mephram is well known to local audiences from many successful appearances with Centre Stage Company and elsewhere.

Rehearsals had shown a promising partnership with Haverhill Silver Band and they are now looking forward to getting together with Kelly in a future concert at the centre.

Friday, September 28: RBL social evening with entertainment by Brian Roy, Legion Hall, 8pm-midnight, tickets from Vi Wyatt or Brian Tyrell for £5. Finger buffet included.

■ More images of Kedington, with another selection of photographs from the past compiled by history recorder John Pelling, will be presented at the community centre on Friday, October 5. As previously, there will be a fish/chicken and chip supper available with bar. The show will follow the same pattern as last year, with Edwardian scenes, farming and other work, the school in the 1920s and 1930s, the World Wars and other events, and changes in the village scene up to the present. Audience participation with memories is invited.

Haverhill

Following on from the summer break, Haverhill and District Branch of the University of the Third Age resume their monthly meetings on the last Tuesday of the month with enrolment day next Tuesday at 10am at Haverhill Arts Centre. The meeting will take the form of renewing membership and paying subs, as well as the opportunity to meet leaders of the numerous groups which cater for all tastes.

Group co-ordinator Norma Poole will also be on hand to help with information required. Light refreshments will be available and the entertainment group, The Cheerups, will be providing some light entertainment.

Region's health review

BY John Gill

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MAJOR public consultation has been launched on the future of NHS services in the region.

Neil McKay, chief executive of the East of England Strategic Health Authority (SHA), said 12 "pledges" made in the consultation document were "ambitious but deliverable" and insisted the initiative would have a real impact on health services.

But critics were quick to open fire, accusing the SHA of spending taxpayers' money on an "expensive PR exercise" when the money would have been better spent at the sharp end.

The consultation, which has cost £15,000 so far, will see glossy brochures with 12 draft pledges sent to 1,300 representatives from NHS organisations, trade unions, local authorities, volunteer organisations and patient forums.

But Andrew Lansley, the shadow health secretary, said some of the pledges were "almost meaningless".

Another critic branded it "pie in the sky" and said the NHS was wasting money on endless consultations.

The cash is being spent on the consultation despite the financial crisis which has crippled NHS organisations in recent years – Cambridgeshire Primary Care Trust (PCT) ended last year £52 million in debt.

Despite the concerns, Mr

McKay insisted the consultation had real value, its pledges were affordable and would help to shape a brighter future for the NHS in the region.

He said: "If people think these pledges are not priorities or not deliverable, we will listen. Yes, our ideas are ambitious, but we think they are reasonable and we think we will be able to deliver."

"This year, the east of England received in excess of £7 billion of taxpayers' money, and although we don't know what the settlement will be next year or beyond, no doubt we will receive even more. There is enough money."

Mr Lansley, who is also MP for South Cambridgeshire, said: "If the SHA is serious about wanting to find out what the priorities for the NHS of the people of the east of England are, that is good."

"But I would say that most of their pledges in the document seem to be those of the government central NHS targets and the rest are so vague as to be almost meaningless."

"I also find it odd that at a time when there are reviews going on at several major hospitals in the region, which could impact directly on services to patients and local people, this issue is relegated to a footnote."

Mr McKay, responding to the criticism, said: "I really do think these pledges will make a massive difference, and although they reflect national priorities, many of them go further."

"As far as service reconfiguration goes, yes we are looking at that – and whatever reconfiguration there is, these pledges will still apply."

He continued: "Look at the pledge to improve life expectancy. There are parts of our region where poor communities have a life expectancy 10 years lower than their more prosperous neighbours. That is just immoral, in my opinion."

"We are pledging to target resources into those communities to deal with that problem. We can't just keep asking for more money, we have to become more efficient."

Geoffrey Heathcock, Lib Dem spokesman on health and social care at Cambridgeshire County Council, lambasted the project, and said it was the latest in a string of costly consultations which looked good but achieved little.

He said: "There was a pantomime to launch it to which the great and the good were invited – a lot of suits having an expensive jolly."

"The danger is that this whole consultation is an expensive PR exercise, when what really matters to Mr and Mrs Public, the real acid test, is what actual benefits it will give us."

"We're being continually asked, 'What do we think of this, what do we think of that?' The public wants higher standards of care, particularly for the elderly who are getting a pretty rough deal at the moment."

"They don't want to be bombarded with consultations and visions and pie in the sky."

"What people want is resources which are being directed to these glossy documents to be directed to where their taxes should be going, to providing good quality health services when they need them."

"I believe they are fed up to the back teeth with this obsession with all this visionary stuff, which might look good on paper, but doesn't necessarily lead to the delivery of the services we deserve."

Mr McKay responded: "He is the man who often complains we don't consult enough people about our plans. Here we are, consulting everyone in the east of England about what our priorities should be."

"If he is saying he is not interested in being asked for his view, I don't believe him."

The consultation will last until November 30 and the details can be found at the website www.eoe.nhs.uk

Samuel Ward is one of the most successful schools in the region.

Samuel Ward earns

GCSE and SAT results over the last three years have placed Samuel Ward in the top 10 per cent of schools nationally for its high value added, and with its new approach to sixth form learning, years 12 and 13 are fast catching up.

These results along with its unique accolades as a training school, leading edge school and its three specialist college status awards for technology, arts and vocational subjects make it one of the most successful schools in the eastern region.

The success is down to the unique learning process that pupils experience when they join the school. A process that puts the emphasis on the individual pupil and their particular needs in order to achieve the highest possible outcomes. Whether they are destined to join Cambridge University or have basic literacy and numeracy needs, the school "values the success of each individual, their honesty and integrity, and fosters resilience and independence".

Pupils arrive from a wide area both within and from outside Suffolk, and the school has developed a wide range of diagnostic tools to ensure that they understand the precise needs of each pupil. These needs are the basis for an individual learning plan, which identifies academic, social and learning styles needs and becomes a route map for their journey through school.

Pupils are placed with friends in tutor groups of about 12 and their learning plan is formally reviewed every half term with their mentor and parents. This three-way partnership is crucial to the success of each pupil, for it enables effective communication and swift intervention to occur when needed.

Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College is rapidly becoming one of the most successful schools in the East. Latest Government data on its Key Stage 3 and 4 examination outcomes place it in the top 7% of all schools nationally in all subjects including Maths and English and in the top 10% for all subjects.

The Department of Education has classified it as 'a high performing specialist school' and have awarded it a unique hat-trick of specialist College awards: Technology College, Arts College and most recently Vocational College status. These awards have helped the pupils achieve very high levels of success in the core subjects of English, maths and science whilst at the same time developing a broad and exciting curriculum. The award of Training School has enabled the school to take a leading role in Suffolk, Cambridge and Essex in promoting high quality teaching and learning and leading Edge status has helped the school support other schools on a range of exciting new learning developments.

Samuel Ward has been at the forefront of a number of key local educational initiatives, has gained a national reputation as an 'expert school' and has extensive links with schools throughout Europe and America. It is this internationalist ethos combined with a sharp focus on quality that has created a culture of excellence, attracting pupils from an increasingly wide area. The pupils are immersed in a unique learning experience providing them with the aspirations, confidence and independence to effective learners and citizens in a global world.

In purr-fect praise of Owen's sculpture

Sir, I read that "paw" old Owen, the sculptured cat, has been put in the dog house by the citizens of Haverhill (Flagship sculpture is dogged by problems - Weekly News, September 13). I am very sorry to read this.

It is stated they cannot understand its form. I personally can, however, and I like it very much. In fact, I give it 10 out of 10. Likewise my real cat, Mr Otis, who has just confided in me that he was the late Owen's friend when he was alive.

The form the sculptured cat represents is of a stretch after having a cat nap. Brilliant! I have actually taken photos of the sculptured Owen through the protective fence - without that netting the pictures would have been purr-fect.

But since Owen is not a menace to Haverhill society, as he is not on the prowl at night like an alley cat, I am at a loss as to why Haverhill's top cat is caged. It seems so wrong.

Walk's workmen don't know meaning of it

Sir, I thought I was the only person to have regarded the Jubilee Walk's workmanship as appalling and am relieved that the town council think likewise. I spent nearly an hour in the car park recently while waiting for my wife off the bus, I was fascinated by the sheer idleness of the six "workmen" clad in their yellow coats who, during this time, managed to move half a dozen bricks into a wheelbarrow and onto a lorry. The rest of their time was spent in whistling at passing females, talking on mobile phones, lounging against the wall of the Co-Op and generally wasting their time, and your and my money. All this time they were supposedly under the watch of a supervisor, in the shape of an elderly man wearing a St Edmundsbury I D tag. He spent this time sitting in the boot of his hatchback, studying his watch, on only one occasion speaking to the workmen. This incident happened not near knocking-off time but at about 2.30pm on a Monday! If this is the direct labour force, heaven help us and save us from more wasted expenditure.

Council's bid to protect POs

SUFFOLK County Council is looking at ways it can help to keep Post Offices open.

The council said concern about the uncertain future of the Post Office network prompted councillors to explore ways to protect the service.

Earlier in the year, representatives from local businesses and the voluntary sector were invited to join councillors at a policy development panel meeting to consider the impact that post office closures will have on communities across the county.

The panel's findings were presented to the cabinet who agreed that the county council should continue to work with its partners to forge a strategy to protect the service, especially in rural areas.

Coun Jeremy Pembroke, leader of the county council said: "Post Offices, especially those linked to a local shop, are part of the fabric of local communities providing access to basic essentials.

"In many cases the local Post Office provides an important social, community and economic function and we need to work together to protect them against the continuing trend of closures, especially in deprived urban and isolated rural areas.

"I was pleased to have the backing of the cabinet to take this important work forward."

The strategy developed by the panel set out a series of steps that can be taken to improve the viability of Suffolk's Post Office network and reduce the impact of closures on rural and urban areas communities.

Housing group trip to meet residents

RESIDENTS who rent their homes from a Suffolk housing group will be able to raise their concerns with its officers when they take to the road next week.

Suffolk Housing Society officers will make their annual trip to visit schemes, including homes at Haverhill and Hundon, and also welcoming residents from surrounding schemes.

The visits allow people to meet board members as well as the staff they see regularly. Residents can have an informal chat and get help to resolve any issues they might have with their community or their homes.

The team will visit the area on Friday. They will be at Park Road, Haverhill, from 10.30am to noon and at Seabrook Close, Hundon, from 2.30-4pm.

The society, which provides and manages more than 1,650 homes for people in need of affordable rents in Suffolk, Essex, Norfolk and Cambridgeshire, has also invited along guests.

Representatives from local waste and recycling centres will be on hand to give advice on recycling and talk about rubbish collections.

Residents can find out about how they can save money and help the environment by talking to the Energy Saving Trust, which will be sending someone along to as many events as possible.

Steve Clarke, chief executive, said: "We do everything possible to make sure that our residents have the chance to talk to us.

"We are intent on building a better community for our residents and we are keen to work with police and other agencies to make improvements to people's lives.

"The more we know, the more we can do for residents."

MANORISMS

News from Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College

AFTER all the gorgeous, hot, sunny weather, isn't everybody glad to get up at 7am every morning for the start of another school year? Well September has come around again and Thursday, the 6th, brought hundreds of bright faces back to the college. Including new Year 9 students who have started confidently, taking a positive outlook on the transition from middle school to upper school. All have settled in quickly, which is more than I can say - I'm still getting lost! Year 10 start their GCSE subjects while Year 11 continue, both working hard for exams starting in the winter term. Year 12 AS and Year 13 A-level students return for their courses after receiving exam results this summer.

Castle Manor are extremely proud of exam results this year, as 56 per cent of Year 11 pupils received five GCSEs with a C grade or above. As well as A-level students receiving the highest results in the school's history. Congratulations for all of these students and good luck with future courses in colleges and universities!

Many Year 10 pupils travel to West Suffolk College every Tuesday for the young apprenticeship courses.

Students follow full courses of engineering, construction, or health and social care. This is a good opportunity for pupils to work in a different environment with a variety of people to concentrate on important skills. Fitting in with the theme of the week "teamwork", Year 12s had the opportunity to visit Thetford Forest on Monday to take part in the Treetops Challenge. This is a good chance for the new sixth form students to work on team-building skills and get to know their peers. I hope they all had fun.

Friday sees Castle Manor's first academic tutoring day. This gets parents, students and teachers together to discuss how the pupil is getting on in their first few weeks at the college. A reminder to all students that you must turn up at the school in full uniform as you would on a normal school day for your meeting.

Thank you to the public on comments on how smart Castle Manor students look. With new Year 9 pupils starting this month, all students are now in the new Castle Manor uniform, and are looking tidy and professional in our businesslike twist to the conventional school uniform.

SAM'S THE WORD

News from Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College

As the new school year gets fully under way, all the students are getting ready to work hard to achieve their goals for the year but the school has also been quite busy.

During the summer holiday, it hosted a summer school for middle school pupils. There were more than 80 students who took part in various activities, including a trip to the National Science Museum in London. We hope that they all enjoyed the trips and that they learned a lot during this time.

Also during the summer, both the GCSE and A-level results were released. The school did really well with 64 per cent of Year 11 students getting A-C grades in their GCSEs. Meanwhile 98 per cent of Year 12 and Year 13 students achieved their AS and A-levels. Congratulations to all those students.

Students from both Castle Hill and Chalkstone Middle schools have been in Samuel Ward for the past week as they have been creating mosaics which will be placed on the newly-renovated Jubilee Walk. We are sure that the mosaics will make the area look very impressive.

Finally, the new Year 12 students visited the Hilltop Activity Centre in Norfolk as a way of team building and to get used to their new colleagues in the sixth form. We hope that they had a lot of fun during the trip and that they made some new friends.

Piaf but no panto at centre

PUT your wigs and greasepaint away, Saturday's performance of A Night at the Pantomime at the Haverhill Arts Centre and a subsequent workshop will not be going ahead.

■ But there is the second film of the French cinema season to look forward to, La Vie en Rose (12A), about the life and loves of Edith Piaf, on Monday at 7.45pm.

■ Matthew Bason, currently resident pianist/accompanist at Kettering Park Spa and Hotel, is appearing at the centre on Tuesday at 7.30pm.

■ It's time to dig out those toys from the loft, the Transformers are back in town and they mean business!

Transformers (12A) is showing on Wednesday at 7.45pm and Thursday, September 27, at 5pm. All tickets for the 5pm performance are at the bargain price of £3.50.

■ Hot on the heels of Joe Brown, Marty Wilde, The Searchers and The Fortunes, come The Tremeloes, another 1960s super group. As Brian Poole and The Tremeloes, they were famously chosen by Decca Records over the Beatles, who auditioned on the same day. Come along on Friday, September 28, at 8pm for a trip down memory lane.

Rising star brings blues and folk to Soul

THE latest singer-songwriter to turn heads comes to the Soul Tree in Cambridge tomorrow. Justin Nozuka is an 18-year-old Canadian troubadour who is being hailed by the music industry as a future star.

His mix of blues, folk and soul is already earning him a growing fan base, despite the fact that he has only recently graduated from high school. He began singing at the age of 12 and learned guitar from a school friend. He wrote the song Supposed to Grow Old when he was 15 and the track appears on his debut album, Holly, named after his mother who funded the album when he decided to turn down record company offers to produce it. His influences come from the likes of Lauren Hill and Marvin Gaye. Tickets are £8. Go to www.soultree.co.uk for more details.

Driven punk rockers are living the dream

By Nik Shelton

FROM the grimy backrooms of Watford pubs to touring America with some of their punk heroes, it's been a crazy year for Gallows.

The band have become the name on the lips of industry and music press tastemakers with their confrontational hardcore punk sound. It was a sound that got the Hertfordshire band noticed by organisers of the Warped Tour, the annual travelling punk festival that criss-crosses the US every summer. After landing a slot on the tour this year, the band suddenly found themselves on the receiving end of a £1million record deal with Warner and realised a dream come true when they played at the Reading Festival.

"The Warped Tour was incredible," said lead singer Frank Carter. "It's not something you do every day. "It's pretty hard work, there's never any sort of let up. It's just non-stop from start to finish. You're always on the road or playing, without breaking. "But Reading was when we decided we've really made something of ourselves. It's the festival I've always wanted to play my whole life and when we were there we realised how many people were following what we were doing and it began to sink in and become real."

With the attention their debut album, Orchestra of Wolves, has reaped and the news that rock magazine Kerrang! had named them Best British Newcomer for 2007, there's a certain amount of expectation and hype which follows them. But with a band as driven as these guys, it's unlikely to go to their heads.

"It's never faded us," said Frank. "None of it is really real to me, I'm very grounded and I just feel really appreciative for what we've got because I know that very few get this kind of career, ever, no matter how hard you try.

"We purge ourselves every night and that's all we can offer. The crowd know they get the best show we can deliver and there is never any compromise, we just do as much as we can and try and push it constantly."

Gallows will be at The Junction in Cambridge on Sunday. Tickets are £8. Call (01223) 511511 to book.

Global musicians gather for Sinfonia

MUSICIANS from across Europe will be filling Haverhill Arts Centre with beautiful music in the 18th annual Haverhill Sinfonia Soloist competition.

Musicians will be travelling to the town from Austria, Switzerland, the Czech Republic, Belgium, Germany and Hungary, as well as from across the UK, to take part in the competition on Saturday, September 29. What began as a modest competition is now a prestigious annual international event, which this year attracted 171 entrants of 33 nationalities.

The 25 musicians selected to compete will each perform a 20-minute piece of their own choice in a day of music of the highest calibre. Categories featured are violin, piano, cello, clarinet, flute, oboe and soprano. There are 37 prizes and engagements to the value of £8,300 to be won including solo performances with groups right through from the Airedale Symphony Orchestra to spots with Wallingford, as well as places at local favourites including the Essex Symphony Orchestra, the Cambridge Orchestra, Bury St Edmunds, Ely, Cambridge, Charterhouse and Hoddesdon groups.

On the adjudicating panel is Kevin Hill, the musical director of the Haverhill Sinfonia; Ronan O'Hora, the head of keyboard studies at Guildhall School of Music and Drama; Wissam Boustany, an international soloist and professor of flute at Trinity College of Music; and Gary Ryan, the professor of guitar at the Royal College of Music.

Sponsors are Days Inn Haverhill, Empire Pianos of Braintree, Evans-Pughe Strings of Hitchin, figleaves.com, the Haverhill Round Table, Marchant Manufacturing Company Ltd, Pat Taylor and Nicholas Jarman, the Music Sales Group, Printwise Ltd, STP Stationery and the Herbert Group.

The competition is being held at the Haverhill Arts Centre between 9.30am and 8pm and all day tickets, available at the door, cost £4 or £2 concessions. They are also available at the box office on (01440) 714 140. For more details visit www.hav-erhillsinfonia.co.uk

Pride & Prejudice

Film Locations

Follow in the footsteps of the stars and visit some of the stunning locations used in the recent film adaptation of Jane Austen's 'PRIDE & PREJUDICE.'

The highlight of this glorious getaway will be the centuries old CHATSWORTH HOUSE where the exterior and some of the rooms were used to depict PEMBERLEY - the Derbyshire mansion belonging to the film's hero MR DARCY. You will have time at leisure to explore this magnificent stately home and its gardens to see memorabilia from the film.

Jane Austen mentions Chatsworth in the Book and many believe that she was thinking of it when describing 'Pemberley'. You will also visit the pretty market town of Bakewell, also depicted in the Film.

Price includes: Return coach, one nights Hotel Bed & Breakfast, entrance to Chatsworth House & Garden and visit to Bakewell. An optional excursion is also available on Sunday to Royal Crown Derby to admire the most comprehensive collection of Derby Porcelain in the world.

To view the property, call Januarys on (01440) 702575.

Five ways you can improve your energy saving

ALL homes with three or more bedrooms going on the market now require an Energy Performance Certificate (EPC) as part of their Home Information Pack.

But don't worry if you don't get an A rating, writes John Davidson, managing director of g-lec, who train energy assessors. Only a handful of homes in the UK will have one – and even to get a B rating, your house will probably need to have been built to the latest regulations.

Most homes will achieve a C to F rating, with the average, especially for older homes, being a D or E. But if you're worried about getting a bad rating, taking five simple cost-effective steps could raise your rating, lower your bills and improve your house sale.

■ Insulate your loft. 250ml is the recommended thickness. ■ Get cavity wall insulation on exterior walls where appropriate. Most houses built between 1930 and the early 1980s have a cavity between brick and breeze block, but the cavities are not necessarily filled.

■ Have thermostatic radiator valves fitted on your central heating radiators. When you're in a room, the ideal temperature for the living room is 21 degrees, and when the room is unoccupied, 18 degrees.

■ Make sure your hot water tank is well lagged with a jacket (these cost from £10) and with a thermostat set to between 55 to 60 degrees.

■ Get low-energy light bulbs.

As further proof of Bychoice Estate Agents exceptional success and demand, they are opening a fifth office within three successful years of business. The Haverhill office will be opening at 67 High Street, on 22nd September 2007. As an estate agency Bychoice gives optimum service to both buyers and sellers and aims to put the customer first in everything they do.

The business is run by co-directors Emma Turner and Richard Gosling assisted by managers Clare Steadman, Thomas Lister, Peter Gosling and Ashley Williams. Supported by a team of dedicated staff all of which have a wealth of knowledge and experience.

The success of Bychoice is down to their marketing strategies and commitment to ensure that both buyers and sellers receive a first class service from their agent, they have a substantial database with many previous clients returning for repeat business.

Approximately 75% of all homebuyers search the Internet for their new home; this shows how important it is to have maximum Internet coverage. That's why Bychoice market homes on the following websites: Bychoice, Rightmove, Find a Property, Evening Standard, Daily Mail, Mail on Sunday, Homes 24 and Property Today.

Due to their recent expansion they have now broadened their area of advertising to include the Suffolk and Bury Free Press, East Anglian Daily Times, Sudbury and Bury Mercury, Haverhill Weekly News and Haverhill Echo. Thus ensuring properties receive maximum coverage in East Anglia.

All offices are individually designed to create a welcoming, friendly but professional environment. Their state of the art computer system provides a fast and efficient network between all the offices. Within hours of instruction, particulars of your property are available in all five offices, and suitable buyers are contacted by letter and telephone to discuss the property within 24 hours.

Bychoice also feel it is important to market all homes to their full potential which is why they have invested in designing property particulars which are second to none within the local market and they do not charge for this suburb marketing tool. These high quality property details are easy to read and give an excellent overall picture of the properties.

They have dedicated staff whose sole job is to progress all sales from offer to completion as smoothly and quickly as possible. Bychoice Estate Agents liaise with financial advisers, solicitors and other agents to make sure buyers and sellers are regularly updated.

Working hand in hand with Bychoice is Sterling & Law Independent Financial Consultants and Wayman & Long Solicitors. Clients have the benefit of free independent advice of the whole mortgage market. The commitment for first class service is of paramount importance, which is why all three companies will very shortly be based from the Long Melford office so that all our clients' expectations can be met in house.

To ensure a high standard of service they are members of the Ombudsman for Estate Agents (OEA), Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors (RICS), and the National Association of Estate Agents (NAEA).

If you are considering moving please contact them for a free, no obligation market appraisal, carried out by one of their friendly and professional staff, on Haverhill 01440 768919.

Jason Blunden joined Sterling & Law in October 2004. Previously a tied financial adviser with Lloyds-TSB for 12 years, he decided to become independent with a view to offering his clients a more comprehensive and competitive service.

His primary role is to provide thoroughly researched and truly independent financial advice for the benefit of his clients. His financial planning service covers mortgage advice including new purchasers, remortgages and buy to lets, as well as life insurance needs. He also advises on investments, children's trust funds, pensions and inheritance tax planning.

Jason meets all his clients at a time and place which best suits them. The large majority of his clients have come from personal referrals and word of mouth and his aim is to make sure his clients think of him first when discussing financial affairs.

STERLING & LAW
INDEPENDENT FINANCIAL CONSULTANTS

Peter Wade is a partner with Wayman & Long Solicitors in Clare. He has been qualified as a solicitor since 1980. He specialises in Conveyancing, Wills, Probate and Family Law.

Peter heads a group of colleagues who assist him in all aspects of the house sale and purchase process. Ann and Julie his assistants will be able to progress all matters being handled by Peter.

Wayman & Long will keep in contact with you by letter, telephone and email and can answer all your day to day enquiries.

Communication is the key to a smooth house sale or purchase.

HAVERHILL WEEKLY NEWS

MOTORING

BMW's X6 crossover – a hybrid 4x4 coupe! – unveiled

BMW's new 'crossover' vehicle will be called X6 and will go into production at the company's North American plant next year.

The company first announced it would go ahead with a versatile sports activity vehicle (SAV) two years ago.

The result is this 4x4 crossover with a coupe – driven by a petrol/electric drivetrain not totally dissimilar to the Lexus hybrid technology. Management board chairman Norbert Reithofer said the X6 would lead BMW's product initiative over the next two years.

BMW says the X6 will deliver the characteristics of a saloon car and a sporty four-wheel-drive wrapped in a coupe-style design.

A BMW insider said the new car will have a high "command" driving position and although the design will be coupe in style, it will "not necessarily" be a two or three-door vehicle.

■ CROSSOVER . . . the new X6.

■ SPORTY . . . with a high "command" driving position. Inset: hybrid powertrain.

'Get eye tests for all drivers'

ROAD safety champion GEM Motoring Assist, formerly the Guild of Experienced Motorists, says that many people are driving with impaired visions because their eyesight has degraded over years behind the wheel. It claims that even the crude test of reading a car's number plate at 20.5 metres at the start of the driving exam is inadequate.

GEM says the driving test vision assessment only involves the very small part in the middle of the retina that is seeing the fine detail and is not concerned with peripheral vision that allows a driver to see a car overtaking or approaching from one side.

"Being able to read a number plate at about the length of a cricket wicket is just not an adequate assessment," said David Williams, Chief Executive of GEM. "The test is not conducted with any degree of sophistication or the use of accurate measuring devices. Why should people not have to produce evidence that their sight has been properly tested by an optician before they are granted a licence to drive? In many cases the employer will meet the cost of such a test."

Expert optometrist Peter Charlesworth agrees but he is also concerned about the significance of ageing or illness and their effect on eyesight. As an example he says if someone has a stroke that affects vision it causes everything on one side of the visual field to go out of sight.

"A simple test is to waggle your hands at your ears and if you see them with your peripheral vision then everything is fine," he said. "However, if you only see one hand it means you have a very large blind spot on one side."

He says that apart from strokes, some diseases of the eye such as glaucoma that creeps up over months and years will eat away at peripheral vision if left untreated.

GEM produces a series of free road safety booklets including one on the effects on drivers of certain medicinal drugs. Copies are available by calling 01342 825676. For more details visit www.motoringassist.com

HIGHWAYS AGENCY
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 –
SECTION 14(1)(a) THE A14 TRUNK ROAD (STOW-CUM-QUY JUNCTION 35 TO MILTON JUNCTION 33, CAMBRIDGESHIRE) (TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2007

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the A14 Trunk Road in the County of Cambridgeshire to allow for the replacement of bridge joints on the River Cam overbridge to be carried out in safety.

It is expected that the works will take place overnight (9pm Mondays to Fridays - 5am the following mornings, and 8pm Saturday to 6am Sunday) for a maximum of 7 nights between Monday 24 September and Monday 8 October 2007. The Order will come into force from 17 September 2007 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order will be to –

- impose a speed limit of 50mph on the A14 westbound carriageway between a point 1 kilometre west of the centre point of the Stow-Cum-Quy Interchange (Junction 35) western underbridge and a point 5 kilometres west of the centre point of that bridge;
- close the westbound carriageway of the A14 between the westbound exit slip roads at Stow-Cum-Quy Interchange (Junction 35) and Milton Interchange (Junction 33); and
- close the A14 westbound entry slip roads at Fen Ditton Interchange (Junction 34) and Stow-Cum-Quy Interchange (Junction 35).

Diversion routes will be in operation during the closure. Should you require further information on these diversions please contact the Highways Agency at the address below.

The temporary mandatory speed restriction (which will not apply to emergency services vehicles), closure (which will not apply to works or emergency services vehicles) and diversion routes will be clearly signposted throughout the works.

Mrs J C Glasson
An official of the Highways Agency

General enquiries relating to this notice may be made in writing to Mr Roger Chenery at the Highways Agency, Woodlands, Manton Lane, Manton Industrial Estate, Bedford MK41 7LW or by telephoning 01234 796008.

NOISE INSULATION REGULATIONS 1975
A428 CAXTON COMMON TO HARDWICK IMPROVEMENT

The A428 Caxton Common to Hardwick Improvement was opened to traffic on 24 May 2007.

Under the Noise Regulations Act 1975 there are believed to be no buildings that are eligible for an offer of insulation (double windows, doors, special ventilation and in some cases Venetian blinds) or grant.

The regulations give a right of appeal to the owner or occupier of any dwelling or other residential property (such as an old people's home or hostel for long-stay residents), and to their immediate landlord or licensor (if any), where the dwelling or property is within 300 metres of the Scheme and no offer of insulation or grant has been made in respect of it. Any such person who claims that use of the new length of road causes, or is expected to cause at the property in question, noise of no less than the level specified in the Regulations, may apply in writing to the Highways Agency, Major Projects South, Woodlands, Manton Lane Industrial Estate, Manton Lane, Bedford, MK41 7LW, setting out the facts on which he or she relies and requesting that an offer of insulation or grant be made in accordance with the provisions of the regulations. This right of appeal must be exercised not later than 21 March 2008.

An information booklet "Compulsory Purchase and Compensation – Reducing the Adverse Effects of Public Development" is available, free of charge, from the above address.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 –
SECTION 14(1)(a)
THE A1 TRUNK ROAD
(BLACK CAT ROUNDABOUT TO WYBOSTON, BEDFORDSHIRE)
(TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) (NO.2)
ORDER 2007

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the A1 Trunk Road in the County of Bedfordshire to allow for carriageway repairs, road markings and associated works to be carried out in safety.

It is expected that the works will take place over 4 nights (8pm – 6am) starting on, or after, Monday 24 September 2007. The Order will come into force on 17 September 2007 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

The effect of the Order will be to –

- (a) impose a 10mph restriction whilst the convoy is in use and a 40mph restriction at all other times on the northbound carriageway of the A1 between its junctions with the A1/A421 Black Cat roundabout and the entry slip road at the A1/A428 Wyboston Interchange, and the southbound carriageway of the A1 between its junctions with the exit slip road at the A1/A428 Wyboston Interchange and the A1/A421 Black Cat roundabout;

- (b) close, in turn, the lengths of road described in (a) above;

Syngenta is a world-leading agribusiness committed to sustainable agriculture through innovative research and technology. We are a leader in crop protection and rank third in the high-value commercial seeds market – total sales in 2006 were approximately $8.1 billion. This is your chance to join a team of around 19,500 people in over 90 countries and help us grow.

Nurture our customers. Reap the rewards.

Customer Support Assistant

£21,000-£27,000 · Whittlesford. Ref: WHOSG8

The very heart of our customer service unit, you'll process customer orders and manage stock. You'll also work with customer forecasts and our production plans to ensure a constant supply, which will involve close liaison with marketing, our sales teams and supply chain. It's a great opportunity for someone ambitious to progress, as you'll get involved in company-wide projects. We're looking for good numeracy skills and a thorough knowledge of spreadsheets such as Excel and Access. SAP experience would also be advantageous.

CRM Data Manager

£22,000-£28,000 · Whittlesford. Ref: WHOSG7

Our database is crucial in supporting our unique marketing strategy, and this new role will see you managing the entry of all our data, as well as ensuring its quality. That means developing and implementing Key Performance Indicators that allow quality tracking – promoting best practice on data capture, data protection adherence and the smooth running of a QAS system. It's a challenging role that offers very real responsibility, so there's the chance to make a big impact. We're looking for a thorough understanding of relational database technology and, ideally, experience of using a pivotal system.

In both roles you'll benefit from a considerable investment in your personal and professional development, as well as rewards including a competitive salary, company pension scheme, generous holiday allowance, healthcare, recreational and sports facilities and a subsidised restaurant.

To apply, please send a full CV and covering letter, quoting the appropriate reference to: HR Central Support, Syngenta, Jealott's Hill International Research Centre, Bracknell, Berkshire RG42 6EY or email: uk.recruitment@syngenta.com

NCTJ TRAIN AS A JOURNALIST

Journalism is often seen as glamorous and exciting but, as with any occupation, success comes only after much hard work and routine activity. However, each working day as a journalist is different and the training you receive will give you the flexibility to cover a wide range of news stories and features.

Journalism draws on all the knowledge and skills you have acquired and can give you a tremendous sense of achievement. If you've got what it takes, journalism could be the career for you!

SO WHERE DO I START?

The NCTJ is the principal provider of journalism qualifications and training and offers a wide variety of training and learning options to suit everyone.

NCTJ qualifications are what editors look for when they are recruiting trainee journalists and these can be gained through full-time, part-time, distance learning or on-the-job training courses. We also offer press photography and photo-journalism training.

For further information about training as a journalist, please visit www.nctj.com where you will find details of all courses offered, locations of study and details of educational requirements.

Pre Press Typesetter

We require a fast, accurate Pre Press Typesetter to join our busy team.

Excellent keyboard skills are essential as is the ability to meet deadlines on a regular basis.

You would be part of a team working a 37½ hr week, being primarily responsible for the setting and displaying of all our display and classified ads.

Specific experience using a PC with QuarkXPress and Photoshop would be valuable but full training can be given to an applicant who can type accurately.

If you are interested and would like to join our team please email Louise Shephard in the first instance for an application form:

louiseshephard@cambridge-news.co.uk

Closing date Friday, September 24th, 2007

We are a leading regional Newspaper publisher and a member of Iliffe News and Media. Our titles include the award-winning Cambridge Evening News, 11 weekly newspapers, a stable of magazines and a suite of websites.

Regional Sales Manager

If you are one of the top sales people in your company and you consistently exceed your targets then we are looking for you to join our highly successful Sales Team. As a specialist label printer based in Hertfordshire, we are currently working with some of the UK's largest blue chip companies and we are looking for a dynamic salesperson to expand our client base. We are not looking for an account handler but a highly successful and motivated individual with a proven track record of opening new accounts. In return for your hard work we are offering a flexible salary package including basic salary, company car, performance related bonus and other benefits.

Customer Services Executive / Estimator

Working closely with the Sales and Production Teams, this role is vital in ensuring customer requirements are fulfilled from quotation through to order delivery.

Educated to at least advanced level standard, experience of quoting within a print or packaging environment is desirable, though not essential. More important are excellent numeracy skills and the ability to communicate confidently and effectively, as the role involves extensive telephone contact with customers, as well as communicating efficiently with internal departments.

Candidates must be able to prioritise a high workload, be methodical, accurate and commercially astute. Strong administration, organisational and IT skills are essential, previous experience of Outlook, Excel and Access databases is preferable.

Plate/Screen Maker

We are looking for an additional plate/screen maker to join our team. Experience of flexo, letterpress and screen making would be an advantage, but not essential as we would be willing to train someone with the right aptitude.

YOUTH FOOTBALL REVIEW

New boy Carter hits six of the very best!

West Wratting Youth Reds U10 15 Haverhill Rovers 0
THE experience of the hosts was evident very early on, as their speed, passing and movement was proving too much for the visitors. The first half was to finish with the Wratting lads five goals to the good, Will Bailey firing in a hat-trick, Paul Jenkinson hitting an unstoppable volley from the corner of the box and Sam Street finishing off a neat one-two. Credit must be given to the exceptional goalkeeping of Paul Jenks in the Rovers goal, who stood up bravely to the onslaught, making many fine saves. The second half followed a similar pattern to the first, with the goals coming at an ever increasing rate. Alex Carter, on his league debut for the club, fired in six goals during the period, and Leon Bailey netted twice as the two forwards showed a great understanding of each other's movement. Will Bailey fired in his fourth and keeper Ben Eames came out from between the sticks to smash the ball home from the edge of the box. Despite the one-sided scoreline, the game was played in a very good spirit and both teams can take credit for playing to the end.

Grampian Gunners U10 2
GUNNERS got off to a really unlucky start as Baily Cassidy headed a fierce cross into his own net, but then started a nine-pass move which saw Lewis Whiting equalise. Minutes later a fair challenge outside the box saw the referee give a penalty to NST, to the bewilderment of home and away supporters alike, which they gratefully scored. Josh Matthewson and Jason Moore were working their socks off in the middle and both had shots saved. Jack Ferguson was starting to link the play well and also came close to scoring too, before NST netted with a bullet header to send them in 3-1 up at the break. The second half saw George Mustoe sending passes for Toby Daly to run on to and whip crosses in as Grampian looked for goals. Jamie Lingard was doing the same on the right and the NST keeper produced some good saves. The game was very even before NST produced some superb finishing to score with four unstoppable volleys which Lewis Knightly could do nothing about. Man-of-the-match Matthewson was sent up front to partner Mitchell Forshaw and after chances went begging they finally forced an own goal. However, right at the end NST scored another top-drawer goal with a header straight from a cross. "NST must be commended for their finishing, which was the difference," said Gunners manager Neil Mustoe.

Grampian Gunners U14 2 Haverhill Rovers 2
A PASSIONATE local derby finished all square at the Sports Field. The home side were in front in the third minute when Jordan Jackson's great work set up skipper Luke Youngs to fire home from 20 yards. The Gunners were the better side in the first period, but were pegged back when Layne converted a penalty for the visitors. Jackson restored Grampian's lead on the stroke of half-time when Reece Rodway's pass sent him clear to bury the ball beyond Baker in the Rovers goal. The second half saw Kicks equalise within a minute. Chances came and went for both sides with probably the better ones for the home side. Jackson, Halls, Brown and Youngs all went close. A great save from home custodian Baldwin thwarted the visitors' best chance. Grampian's Manager Simon Youngs said: "We would have taken a point before the start, but in the end I believe we had the better chances, if we show that commitment for the rest of the season we will do okay."

Histon Hornets U11 0 West Wratting Youth 5
THE game started slowly, but Wratting gradually began to force the pace with focused passing around the perfect playing surface. Lambert struck after turning on to a swift through pass from Stevenson. It was soon a double for Lambert after a smart move started by Millar was continued to Ager who passed to Stevenson and then Bush, before Bush side-footed a delightful delivery for Lambert to grab his second. Bush then launched a ferocious counter-attack and finished well. There was relentless pressure from Wratting in the second half with Lambert poaching his third after a shot from Scotton was dropped. Payne, who is growing in confidence, supplied the fifth goal with the final kick of the match. Man of the match was Cooper

West Wratting: Millar, Bush, Cooper, Elliott, Foster, Massie, Stevenson, Ager, Payne, Scotton, Lambert.

Spartak 78 U13 0 Grampian Gunners 7
THE Gunners went in at half time a goal to the good thanks to substitute Robson. In the second half the floodgates opened. Oates, top scorer last season, has become provider this time. He picked up the ball on the edge of the area and played it to the feet of Haines, whose shot took a slight deflection but still finished in the back of the net. The third should have come from Oates but his shot was well saved. However, Halpin pounced to rattle in the rebound. Number four was a well deserved first of the season for Oates. Grampian were now in full control and Hughes rounded the keeper to make it five. Two minutes later Purkiss smashed home a peach from 30 yards. With time running out, Robson picked up the ball inside the area and went on to make it seven.

Angels lose out by the dozen

Treadfirst Sudbury & District Sunday League: Challenge Cup (Prelim round) Delaware Feather Angels 1 Bayhorse 12
THE Angels went down to a heavy defeat at the hands of their higher division opponents despite a super goal from captain Craig Foster. Delaware held Bayhorse to a 0-0 scoreline for the first 40 minutes with a superb solid defensive display, but three late goals in the final five minutes sent the Division 1 side into the break with a 3-0 advantage. Bayhorse came flying out the blocks in the second half scoring a further nine goals, which meant Foster's 35-yard long-range strike was nothing more than a consolation. The Feather Angels will this week return to focus on their league campaign. Man of the match was Matthew Morrison.

FOOTBALL: HAVERHILL HEAD FOR HITCHIN AFTER SUDDEN-DEATH FA CUP VICTORY

Ace Adam wins war of nerves

ADAM Ben-Saud was the Haverhill hero as his spot-kick gave Rovers a thrilling 5-4 penalty shoot-out victory over Mildenhall in their FA Cup, first qualifying round replay at Hamlet Croft on Tuesday night.

Having fought back to earn a 1-1 draw at Recreation Way on Saturday, Steve Taylor's men battled and scrapped as the game ended goalless after extra time.

And Ben-Saud, who had missed Haverhill's best chance to win the game in normal time, converted the winning penalty to give Rovers a 5-4 victory and book a home tie against Hitchin Town in the next round.

Steve Taylor said: "Over the two legs, I think we deserved to win the game as we had the better chances. It's not nice to win it on penalties, but justice was done as we had the better chances to win it.

"Overall, I think we showed a real desire and just what the FA Cup means to us. Mildenhall probably dominated the first half and we had the second, and it was a close game. In extra time, I think we could have played for another hour and nobody would have scored."

And the manager now fancies his side's chances against the British Gas Business Southern League, Premier Division outfit in the second qualifying round on September 29.

He said: "They've not had the best of starts in their league and they've got to come to Hamlet Croft, which is never an easy place to come to. It will be a tough game as they're still two leagues above us, but we can win it."

Mildenhall went in front from a penalty on 41 minutes in Saturday's clash. John Taylor tumbled in the area after clashing with Marcus Hunt and Ben Cranfield stuck the spot-kick away.

However, Haverhill equalised on 69 minutes when Adam Salmons raced on to a through ball to score despite the linesman's flag going up for offside, which was overruled by the referee because the ball came off a Mildenhall player.

Both sides had chances to nick the tie late on, but Joey Abbs went wide for the hosts and a Salmons chip from 35 yards just missed.

Plumridge finds spot of comfort

Lakenham Hewett 11 Haverhill 5

EASTERN COUNTIES DIVISION TWO

JAKE Plumridge was upbeat despite Haverhill's loss to Lakenham Hewett. A side disrupted by absentees was further hampered in the first five minutes when hooker Peter Lester was forced off injured, and scrum-half Rob Hytee had to replace him in the front-row.

The hosts exerted the pressure in the opening period and surged into an 11-0 lead thanks to two penalties and a try.

Plumridge scored the Haverhill touchdown and went close with a drop-goal attempt in the closing stages.

And the vice-captain said: "We had 80 per cent of the ball, but we gave away silly penalties and they kicked their goals. We only had one penalty in their half, but it was just one of those things.

"The boys put 110 per cent effort in, and we had a try disallowed."
